

A leaf-peeping hike

Immerse yourself in fall foliage during a moderate 2-3 mile hike in Black Rock Forest in Cornwall on Saturday, Oct. 19 from 10 a.m. to noon. Black Rock Forest Executive Director Dr. Bill Schuster will discuss the variety of fall foliage colors, what we know about why leaves change color, and what new things we are learning about the significance of this process. This is a family friendly hike, adults and children welcome.

Bring drinking water, a trail snack if desired, comfortable walking shoes, insect/tick repellent.

An email will be sent to registered participants the week prior with parking information and arrival details. Free for Friends of the Forest; general admission is $10. RSVP is required.
