

news bites

NEW EDUCATOR

The Black Rock Forest Consortium announces the hiring of An-

Angelica (Angie) Patterson

gelica (Angie) Patterson to fill the master educator position, beginning this month. Patterson earned a BS from Cornell in Natural Resources, an MA from Columbia in Plant Ecophysiology, and is currently completing her doctoral dissertation at Columbia.

Complementing her rigorous training and research experience, Patterson was a program manager for Barnard's Department of Environmental Sciences for several years.

To reach Patterson with any questions, e-mail apatterson@black-rockforest.org or call 845-534-4517.